

Information for all students who are going to be taking A Level Drama and Theatre.

Develop your knowledge and understanding of the following texts by watching pre-recorded films of the set texts to begin to build your interest and challenge your imagination and creativity of what the plays are about and their key themes. Students will study the set texts of Metamorphosis and Hedda Gabler, but further reading of both of the playwright's works will further develop your understanding:

Hedda Gabler and A Doll's House by Henrik Ibsen

Metamorphosis/ The Trial/East by Steven Berkoff

You can access the following site to watch examples of all of these plays via the following site, but please ensure that you enter the correct information to access the site:

Username/email- dtplus.billericay

Password – theatre.

In addition to the above, I would recommend reading Franz Kafka's original novella of the story entitled Metamorphosis which Steven Berkoff used to create his own stage adaptation. You can buy this on a kindle/phone for £1.00 or it may even be free.

Thank you.

Mrs Miller and Mrs Hamber